Business Boom Continues at Rapid Rate

Paced by a strong consumer demand, Southern California's business activity in November continued to perform at the near-record level which has prevailed in recent months, Hedley P. Atherton, Jr., manager of Security First National Bank's Torrance branch, reported today.

According to Atherton, leading elements of the local economy include department store sales, bank clearings and real estate activity. Building and construction activity also was at a high rate during November, although it was slightly below the October level, he said.

Based on figures for the week ending November 23, Security Bank's business index stood at 123.3 (preliminary), compared to the like year-ago period reading of 117.8. One of the major factors of weakness in the Southern California business scene continues to be unemployment, the bank's report noted.

For the 14-county area, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate has risen from 5.2 per cent at the beginning of the year to 6.3 per cent in September and six per cent in October.

The unemployment rate for the entire nation declined in the early part of 1962 to a low of 5.2 per cent and climbed to 5.8 per cent in September.
